

support to social service organizations across the country. The government can be helpful in alleviating some of the problems facing our communities today, but we will never have enough resources to help everyone. We need to team up with faith-based and community organizations of all types to ensure that no matter how serious a person's need, they will have someplace to go for help. That place could be the local government agency, it could be the local church, or a community center. Partisan debate, while very entertaining, will not ultimately help the poor and hurting. Passing this legislation will. We all need to work together for the greater good by dropping the rhetorical bickering and get this legislation to the President's desk.

HONORING ROBERT "BOBBY"
MCDONNELL

HON. NANCY PELOSI

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, November 18, 2003

Ms. PELOSI. Mr. Speaker, it is with great personal sadness that I pay final tribute to a good friend and a great leader in the San Francisco community—Robert "Bobby" McDonnell—who died on August 17th. His extraordinary work in the labor movement and in the community earned him the respect and appreciation of the City of San Francisco.

A native San Franciscan, Bobby graduated from Marin Catholic High School and attended the College of Marin and the University of San Francisco. Bobby McDonnell had a long and distinguished career dedicated to the working men and women of the San Francisco Bay Area. He served as Field Representative and as Secretary-Treasurer for the Laborers' International Union of America, AFL-CIO, Local 261 from 1968 to 1999. He was an Executive Board Member of the San Francisco Labor Council, and also a member of the San Francisco Building and Trades Council. His fierce commitment to the labor movement never ceased, and he advocated labor issues at every opportunity from coast to coast.

He was a member of the Golden Gate Bridge District's Board of Directors from 1984 until the time of his death, where he worked tirelessly to maintain a great public agency. His achievements during his long tenure are too many to list, but in all his endeavors, he served with passion, integrity and excellence.

He was a devoted and enthusiastic godfather to St. Vincent's School for Boys. He unselfishly worked as a volunteer, organizer and fundraiser not only for St. Vincent's, but also the United Way, the United Irish Cultural Center and the Amigos of Central Latino. One of his favorite activities was playing Santa Claus for the different organizations where he volunteered. It was a perfect job for him, because those who knew him say he spread joy and humor wherever he went.

To his wife Mary, his brother Danny, his stepsons Jerry, Michael, David and Harry, I extend my deepest sympathy and my profound appreciation for your sharing Bobby with us. We miss him greatly.

RECOGNIZING NATIONAL DIABETES AWARENESS MONTH

HON. HILDA L. SOLIS

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, November 18, 2003

Ms. SOLIS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the month of November as National Diabetes Awareness Month.

An estimated 18.2 million people in the U.S., or 6.3 percent of the population have diabetes. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), while an estimated 13 million have been diagnosed with diabetes, 5.2 million do not even realize they are diabetics. The American Diabetes Association estimates the economic cost of diabetes in the U.S. in 2002 was $132 billion, or one out of every 10 health care dollars spent.

Diabetes is the number one disease-related cause of death in Los Angeles County. In California, more than 1.4 million California adults and 12,000 adolescents have been diagnosed with diabetes. Among adults ages 50–64, diabetes prevalence was significantly higher among African Americans (20.5 percent) and Latinos (17.9 percent) than whites (8.3 percent). Additionally, 176,000 adolescents not diagnosed with diabetes were at risk because they did not participate in regular physical activity and were overweight or at risk for being overweight.

I have been active in the efforts to combat diabetes because I know the burdens it imposes on people and their families. I am a co-sponsor of the Diabetes Prevention Access and Care Act (H.R. 1916) which directs the National Institutes of Health to support research with respect to pre-diabetes and diabetes, particularly type II diabetes. This important legislation will help all Americans by providing much-needed diabetes prevention and outreach.

Although diabetes is an epidemic that is widespread, complicated, and severe, it can be controlled. Taking small steps like healthy diets and physical activity can lead to big rewards. Diabetes is a disease that permeates our communities, families, and friendships and we must do all that we can to stop the spread of this deadly disease.

TRIBUTE TO FIRST LIEUTENANT TODD JASON BRYANT

HON. KEN CALVERT

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, November 18, 2003

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to pay tribute to a hero from my congressional district. Earlier this afternoon, I had the distinct honor to attend the funeral service for Todd Jason Bryant, First Lieutenant, United States Army at Arlington National Cemetery. Today I would ask that the House of Representatives honor and remember this incredible young man who died in service to his country.

Todd was born on January 14, 1980, in Long Beach, California. Todd came from a military family and his desire and determination to join the military was resolute. He enlisted in the Army Reserve and completed Basic Training at Fort Sill, Oklahoma before his senior year of high school. He came to my office for an appointment to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point. I was proud to nominate this ambitious young man who I knew would distinguish himself at West Point, just as he had done his whole life.

He interned in my office before his senior year at West Point and graduated with a degree in Political Science on June 1, 2002. He would often joke that he was going to run for my congressional seat someday—I have no doubt he would have succeeded. After graduation, Todd attended the Armor Officer's Basic Course at Fort Knox, Kentucky, graduating in December 2002. He reported to Fort Riley, Kansas in January 2003, and was initially assigned to Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 1st, Battalion 34th Armor Regiment where he served as an Assistant Operations Officer. In April of 2003, Todd was reassigned to C Company, 1–34 AR where he assumed duties as Platoon Leader, 3rd Platoon. On August 30, 2003, Todd and Jenifer Reardon were married in Pennsylvania, nine days before shipping out with his unit in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom. On Friday, October 31, 2003, Todd was killed by an explosive device as his Humvee traveled on a road between Fallujah and Baghdad. He was 23 years old.

As we look at the incredibly rich military history of our country we realize that this history is comprised of men, just like Todd, who bravely fought for the ideals of freedom and democracy. Each story is unique and humbling for those of us who, far from the dangers they have faced, live our lives in relative comfort and ease. Today was probably the hardest day the Bryant family has ever faced and my thoughts, prayers and deepest gratitude for their sacrifice goes out to them. There are no words that can relieve their pain. Larry and Linda Bryant have raised an extraordinary family. Their oldest son, Tim is a Major in the Marines, their daughter, Tiffany, is a Captain in the Army and Todd, First Lieutenant in the United States Army, recipient of the Meritorious Service Medal, National Defense Service Medal Army Service Ribbon, Bronze Star, and the Purple Heart has been laid to rest in our country's most distinguished military cemetery.

His wife and family have all given a part of themselves today in the loss of their loved one and I hope they know that their son, the goodness he brought to this world and the sacrifice he has made, will not be forgotten.

Mr. PORTER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to mourn the passing of a good friend and a pillar of the community in Southern Nevada, Charley Schneider. I had the privilege of working with Charley, and cannot do justice to what a great person and friend Charley was.
